Update on the Clubhouse Write private beta and what's next

January 28, 2020

Tiffany Go
Sr. Product Marketing Manager

Since launching the Write private beta in September 2019, we've been humbled by the overwhelming response. To date we have had over 2,200+ requests to join the beta and enabled over 130 organizations.

We want to share some updates on the current status of the private beta, eligibility, new features, and preview the roadmap for the next quarter. Read on and we'd love to hear if you have any questions or thoughts in the comments below.

Commonly asked questions about Clubhouse Write

What's the status of the Write private beta?

As of today, we are announcing that the private beta is currently at capacity. We'll continue to slowly work through the submissions we've already received. If you're interested in getting updated when Write is in General Availability, please let us know you're interested here.

How has eligibility been determined for the private beta?

During the private beta phase, only Standard and Enterprise Plan users have been eligible once they complete the survey. This may change when we are in GA and we will be sure to update everyone who has expressed interest through the Clubhouse Write page.

How does the pricing for Clubhouse Write private beta work?

We are not charging organizations participating in the Clubhouse Write private beta.

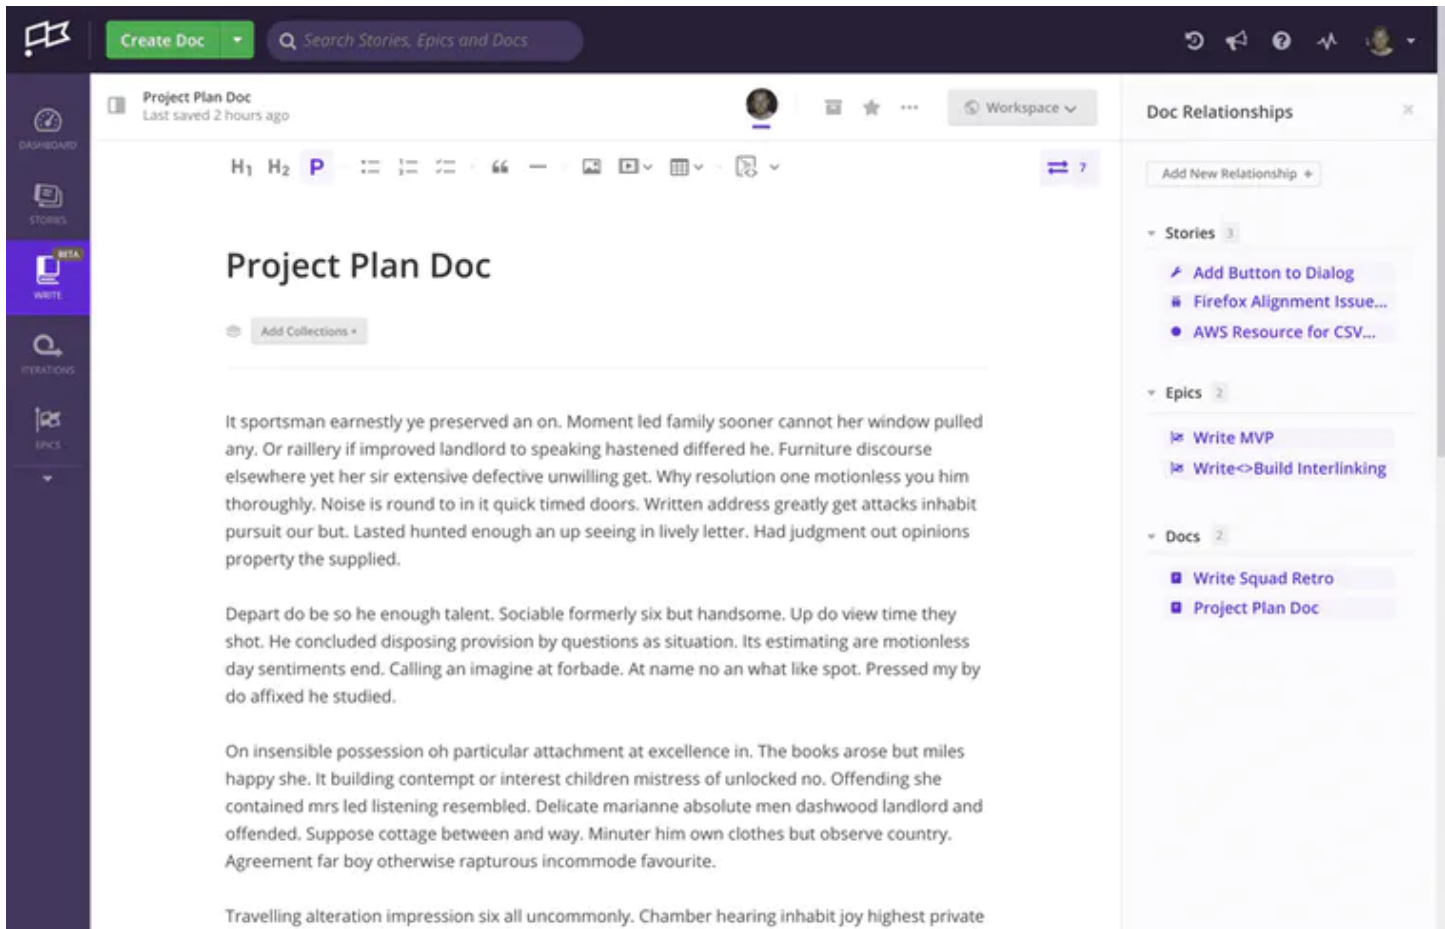

Will you charge for Clubhouse Write?

Yes, we plan on charging for Write in the future. We will not charge until it's ready and we are confident the product adds value (measured by user engagement). The timing for this is still TBD and we will be sure to share that information as soon as we are ready.

Newly released features available in the Write private beta

Build <> Write: Epic<>Doc relationships

We now have two-way linking between Docs and Epics. See what Epics and other Docs are related to your opened Docs through a new Relationship Panel. Linked Stories in the Doc will also appear in the Relationship Panel.

See related Docs and Epics in new Relationship Panel

You can also link Docs to an Epic to ensure your team has quick access to all related reference material when working on an Epic.

The screenshot shows the Clubhouse interface for an Epic named "Onboarding Flow". The top navigation bar includes a "Create Story in Epic" button and a search bar. The left sidebar shows navigation options: Dashboard, Write, Stories, Epics (selected), and Projects. The main content area has tabs for Overview, Docs, Stories, Discussion, and Reports. The "Overview" tab is active, showing the Epic's description: "This Epic is for our new onboarding flow. All information is linked below in Write." Below this, there are sections for "Docs" and "Stories". The "Docs" section has buttons for "Link Doc to Epic" and "Create Doc for Epic", and a message stating "You have no Docs associated with this Epic." The "Stories" section has a filter bar with options for Projects, Owners, Labels, and States, and a table of stories. The right sidebar shows details for the Epic, including its ID, State (To Do), Milestone (No Milestone), Requester (Kieron Keenan), Owners (Kieron Keenan), Followers (Just You), Due Date (No date), Labels (Add Labels...), Stories (2), Points (0), Features (2 (100%)), and Story Owners. It also shows the last update and creation dates.

Link a Doc to an Epic

Or create a Doc from within an Epic to automatically create the relationship between the two objects.

The screenshot displays the Clubhouse Write interface for an Epic titled "Onboarding Flow". The interface is divided into several sections:

- Header: Includes a "Create Story in Epic" button, a search bar for "Search Stories, Epics and Docs", and navigation icons for Dashboard, Write, Stories, Epics, and Projects.
- Epic Overview: Shows the Epic title "Onboarding Flow" and a description: "This Epic is for our new onboarding flow. All information is linked below in Write." There is an "Edit Description" button.
- Docs Section: Contains three documents: "Onboarding API", "Onboarding Design Concepts", and "Onboarding Project Plan", all updated 16 minutes ago. Buttons for "Link Doc to Epic" and "Create Doc for Epic" are present.
- Stories Section: Includes a filter bar with options for Projects, Owners, Labels, and States. Below is a table of stories.
- Right Sidebar: Provides details about the Epic, including its ID (15), State (To Do), Milestone (No Milestone), Requester (Kieron Keenan), Owners (Kieron Keenan), Followers (Just You), Due Date (No date), Labels (Add Labels...), Stories (2), Points (0), Features (2 (100%)), and Story Owners. It also shows the last update and creation dates.

The screenshot shows the Clubhouse Write interface. At the top, there's a 'Create Doc' button and a search bar with 'write demo'. The document is titled 'Write Squad Demo' and is saved. The left sidebar contains navigation icons for Dashboard, Stories, Iterations, Epics, Reports, Labels, Milestones, Search, Write (highlighted), Projects, and Status. The main content area has a rich text editor with a 'Horizontal Line' button. The document content includes:

- Overview: This doc is to outline active and upcoming work for Write Squad, along with high level issues and key items to be aware of over the coming quarter. If you've any thoughts or ideas please feel free add a comment and @mention squad members.
- Meet The Squad: This doc is to outline active and upcoming work for Write Squad, along with high level issues and key items to be aware of over the coming quarter. If you've any thoughts or ideas please feel free add a comment and @mention squad members.
 - + Record and make available design team meetings
- What have we shipped?: You can view all public facing release notes here, which are updated daily with progress across all teams. We've been actively working on these Epics:
 - + Write Internal Alpha
 - + WRITE Collections V1
- What are we working on now?
 - + Q4-2019 Documentation Tasks
 - + Manage Collections UI
 - + Keyboard shortcuts
 - + Write - Design Ideation
- What might we work on in the future?

On the right, there's a comment thread with two comments: 'This is a comment!' by Melanie (11-12-2019 04:53PM) and a reply by Kieron Keenan (11-12-2019 05:37PM).

Figma and Write Integration

The integration enables live preview embeds of your public Figma files. Now when a Figma link is pasted into a Write Doc, a live preview will appear!

When you copy and paste content from a Google Doc into a Write Doc, it will automatically format correctly in the Write Doc.

Upcoming Roadmap

Our focus for the next few months is to continue to build features that make Write more useful and enjoyable to use.

- General Availability: The next big Write milestone is working toward making Write available for all Standard and Enterprise customers. Our focus moving into this phase is ensuring Write is stable and reliable as we scale.
- Build <> Write Relationships: We've received really great feedback so far about our newly released Epics <> Docs feature and want to bring that same powerful functionality to the rest of Build by adding in Story <> Doc, Iteration <> Doc, and Milestone <> Doc relationships.
- Discoverability: Our beta teams are creating lots of Docs! We'll be adding new features to help users better organize and discover their content.
- Version History: Sometimes you just want to go back and start over with a previous version.
- Improvements to Existing Features: Improving table functionality, ability to resolve comments, ability to go back to a version in time, and more!

Thanks for the interest, support, and patience since we launched Write in private beta. Your feedback is incredibly important to us as we create a better way for software teams to ideate, document, and collaborate together.
